Innovations in Divorce: Alternative Dispute Resolution for Divorcing Families

Presented by

Marsha Schechtman, LCSW, ACSW, Robert Bordett, CFP®, CDFA™, Amy Waggoner, JD, and Paul Fair, PhD

Friday, February 24, 2012
3 core & 1 ethics continuing education hours

This educational program will provide the clinical social worker with current information available to clients who are considering divorce, actively navigating through the divorce process, or are in need of assistance post divorce. In addition to providing a fundamental understanding and accurate, up to date information on the divorcing process, the workshop will assist professionals in increasing knowledge and understanding of alternative dispute resolution for the divorcing client, and explore the ethical dilemmas associated and experienced while working with the divorcing client.

Marsha Schechtman has been a clinician for over 25 years (practicing in the Atlanta area since 1982), is a registered general/civil mediator and divorce mediator, and active member of the National Association of Social Workers, Georgia Chapter. Robert D. Bordett, Senior Vice President, Consolidated Planning Corporation, is a Certified Financial Planner, Certified Divorce Financial Analyst and a registered mediator with the Georgia Office of Dispute Resolution. Amy Waggoner, certified Collaborative Law attorney and Guardian Ad Litem, focuses solely on the practice of family law, handling divorce, child custody and support, paternity, and legitimation cases, in addition to counseling clients in premarital, domestic partnership agreements and dissolutions. Paul Fair, a licensed clinical psychologist in private practice, specializes in anxiety, anger and stress disorders and Biofeedback, has been a Collaborative Practice Divorce Coach since 2003 and a Collaborative Trainer since 2005, is a Board Member of the Collaborative Law Institute of Georgia, and is a member of the International Academy of Collaborative Professionals and the Georgia Psychological Association.

Workshop will be held at the NASW Georgia Chapter Education Center
3070 Presidential Drive, Suite 228, Atlanta, GA 30340
